TitanTreasure VIP Workflow Proposal

A clearer decision brief for the next step in the VIP transfer process.

What is already covered

The original setup already covered the core infrastructure needed to launch the server and run the bot.

- Bot hosting and deployment environment
- Discord server provisioning and structure
- Verification flow and role assignment
- Base onboarding and launch infrastructure
- Initial Discord automation and bot runtime setup

What is the current issue

The remaining friction is around VIP transfer handling. The current process still works, but it is more manual than it needs to be.

- Affiliates and prospects face more back-and-forth than necessary.
- Staff handoff is less structured than it should be.
- Owners end up handling review in a more manual way than ideal.
- The process does not scale cleanly if transfer volume increases.

Why this matters now

Because the transfer-bonus process is still being tested, the safest next step is to improve intake, proof collection, and handoff now without forcing a deeper integration too early. That keeps the workflow cleaner while leaving room to decide later whether Telegram should become part of the operating flow.

Recommended Solution

The cleanest next move is to refine the Discord-side VIP workflow first.

What the refined Discord workflow would include

1. A clearer VIP transfer intake form inside Discord to collect structured request details.
2. A private follow-up case, thread, or ticket for proof and screenshot collection.
3. Cleaner staff handling so cases are easier to review and manage inside the server.
4. Visible status handling so each case can clearly show whether it is in review, accepted, rejected, or pending more information.
5. A more polished workflow around onboarding, VIP routing, and staff operations so the server is easier to present and use live.

What this does not assume by default

This refined workflow does not automatically assume Telegram integration. Telegram can be added later, but it should be treated as separate scope because it changes the process from Discord-only handling into a cross-platform owner operations workflow.

Optional Telegram extension

If TitanTreasure wants to keep owner review inside Telegram later, that can be added as a separate phase.

- Relay completed VIP intake cases into a Telegram topic or thread for owner review.
- Support owner-side status handling there, with updates reflected back into the Discord case if desired.
- Potentially use the same Telegram setup later for announcement posting, such as provider launches or live campaign drops.

Pricing and Approval

This keeps the decision simple while preserving the reasoning behind the add-on.

Pricing summary

Scope	What it covers	Price
Current setup / hosting	Bot hosting, Discord setup, verification flow, and base automation already delivered.	$150 paid
Refined Discord VIP workflow	A cleaner VIP intake, private proof collection, organized staff handling, and better live readiness inside Discord.	$750 one-time
Telegram integration	Optional relay, owner review flow, status syncing, or announcement tooling if approved as a separate phase.	Separate add-on

Founder-rate note

This pricing is intentionally discounted so TitanTreasure can keep building without taking on an outsized cost jump too early. It reflects a founder-rate approach for a more hands-on workflow refinement phase.

Decision needed

Please confirm which path you want to approve:

1. Approve the refined Discord-only VIP workflow.
2. Approve the refined Discord workflow and request Telegram add-on scope as the next phase.
